

LifeSharing Providers – Contracted Position

This is an exceptional opportunity to share your home and family with an individual with an intellectual disability.

What do you get to do?

You get to open your home and family to one of our Individuals, giving them the chance to live as a member of your household by providing or arranging for participation in appropriate social, recreational, educational, and vocational activities.

You get to involve the Individual in all routine activities of the family, including household chores and duties, holiday celebrations, birthdays, day outings, and vacations.

Qualified families are selected and provided training based on the individual's needs.
